2017 CONTROLLED CHAOS

$48 / $38.40 6 btl / $33.60 12 btl

64% Mourvèdre, 14% Zinfandel, 12% Grenache, 10% Counoise, Paso Robles

408 cases, bottled April 2019

Heady, gamey aromatics of lamb and earthy mushrooms, the Mourvèdre really showing off here. Savory herbal elements permeate the nose: bay leaf, thyme, rosemary, even a fresh eucalyptus edge. Bright cherry on the palate, tempered with some black pepper spice. Perhaps our favorite iteration of this wine to date!

2017 NEW ROUTINE

$60 / $48 6 btl / $42 12 btl

65% Cabernet Sauvignon, 35% Syrah, Central Coast

230 cases, bottled August 2019

Dark, almost impenetrable aromatics that remind us of nothing more than chocolate covered blueberries. There is also a potent grilled aspect: charred cedar or flame-seared jalapeño. This is consistent with the palate, where the sultry smokiness of the Syrah is tempered by the fresh herbaciousness of the Cabernet. Oak and stems both add tannin and structure to the wine, as well as respective spiciness.

2018 ODDLY NATURAL

$52 / $41.60 6 btl / $36.40 12 btl

46% Grenache, 26% Counoise, 22% Syrah, 4% Cinsault, 2% Viognier, Glenrose Vineyard, Adelaida District

211 cases, bottled June 2020

Deep, brooding fruit aromatics that calls to mind strawberry fruit leather. The fruits (black cherry, strawberry) present themselves as ripe, very ripe. This follows through to the palate, where the fruits are enriched by sweet flavors of brown sugar, sarsaparilla and cardamon. Fans of this wine will want to stock up, as this will be the final vintage of this blend!

2017 ORIGINAL COPY

$60/ $48 6 btl / $42 12 btl

46% Cabernet Sauvignon, 29% Petit Verdot, 25% Malbec, Adelaida District

200 cases, bottled August 2019

Tightly wrapped aromatics, very dark fruited with stately hardwood notes showing cedar, beechwood and mahogany. Somber dark berry notes on the palate, less Cabernet freshness than we usually get, leaning instead to tobacco notes. The mouthfeel is incredibly well built, with strapping tannins that are stern and purifying. This wine is just beginning to unfurl, and we are excited to see its development over the coming years.

2018 PINOT NOIR

$60/ $48 6 btl / $42 12 btl

100% Pinot Noir, Rancho La Viña Vineyard, Santa Rita Hills, Santa Barbara County

125 cases, bottled June 2020

The aromatics are built around a definite mineral streak: wet concrete. This is balanced by a spectrum of plums: white and red, fresh and reduced. Sweet spices further complicate the nose: allspice, cloves, cinnamon, a pinch of black pepper. A mouthwatering palate, midweight with a gentle framing of tannin. Fresh, tart fruits (raspberries, strawberries, pomegranate) are tempered by sweet, spiced fruit, reminiscent of Fig Newtons.

2018 ZINFANDEL

$40 / $32 6 btl / $2 12 btl

100% Zinfandel, Paso Robles

418 cases, bottled February 2020

An intoxicatingly rich nose, heady, with the black fruits playing well with turmeric spice.

Juicy and racy as it comes across the palate, showing traditional Zinfandel elements of red berries and black pepper, with brambly tannin. There is a sweet earthiness underlying it all, reminiscent of beet juice. A well-poised, subtle Zin made in a classical, rather than opulent, style.
